

Michael Papanek is Principal and Founder of Michael Papanek Consulting. With more than 25 years experience leading high-performance teams, Michael has deep expertise leading successful large-scale change initiatives and increasing the performance of people and organizations in complex, competitive markets.

Mr. Papanek has particular expertise in implementing large-scale change, creating and implementing innovative strategies and business models, executive coaching, leadership development, team development and facilitation.

Prior to founding Michael Papanek Consulting in 2008, Michael was a partner, principal consultant and account executive at Interaction Associates and last served as their General Manager of Learning Innovation.

Before joining Interaction Associates in 1992, Michael worked for eight years as a systems engineer and project leader implementing IT driven change at Electronic Data Systems (EDS). Michael is certified as a Master Trainer in workshops for Coaching, Leadership, Teamwork, Facilitation, Strategic Thinking, Conflict Resolution, Change Management and Organizational Development. Michael is also certified in The Nine Doors™ and the Realise2™ leadership assessment systems.

Current and past clients include:

- Apple Computer
- Chevron
- Cisco Systems
- Clorox
- eBay
- Facebook
- Google
- GE Capital
- Hewlett-Packard
- Johnson and Johnson
- Kaiser Permanente
- Levi Strauss & Co.
- National Academy of Sciences
- Sprint
- Sutter Health System
- Tektronix
- Texas Instruments
- VMware
- Wells Fargo Bank
- Yahoo!

Michael earned a B.S. in Economics from the University of the Pacific and has completed graduate courses in management and information technology at Wayne State University and the University of Michigan Ross School of Business. Mr. Papanek is the grandson of Kurt Lewin, renowned social scientist and a founding father of organizational development. Michael's pro-bono clients have included Earth Justice and The Oakland and San Francisco Unified School Districts.